This architectural site plan illustrates the layout of a building complex. The main building consists of two rectangular sections, labeled b1 and b2, which are connected by a narrow corridor. To the left of b1 is a parking area designated p1, and to the right of b2 is another parking area p2. At the bottom of the plan, there is a row of four smaller rectangular structures, each labeled t1. The plan is heavily annotated with elevation points (e.g., 117.53, 116.85, 117.32) and dimensions (e.g., 16.100, 16.140, 16.100). A blue line with arrows indicates a path or flow through the site. The plan also shows various boundary lines, including a dashed line labeled mb and a solid line labeled mb. The overall layout is rectangular, with the buildings and parking areas arranged within a defined boundary.
